"Girl of the Golden Apple" Study Your Profile

Four famous artists—James Montgomery Flagge, Howard Chandler Christy, Penrhyn Stanlaws and Harrison Flaher—gave the "golden apple" of heauty at the annual Chu Chin Chow ball in New York to Miss Edith Hyde. Miss Hyde is now telling Washington women her beauty secrets in a series of eighteen articles written expressly for The Washington Hernid, and illustrated by photographs of Miss Hyde hernelf. This article is the ninth.

"The Girl of the Golden Apple." If you have a good profile make the most of it. Many a girl while her full face is nothing extraor-dinary has a strikingly becoming profile. Don't forget that many people see your profile long before they may have the pleasure of meet-ing you face to face. Make your profile attract. Make your profile your strong point.

First of all study the lines of your profile by arranging two mirrors so that you can with ease see yourself as others see you from the side. Determine whether your hair should be arranged low over the brow or colled over the neck. The great thing is to so arrange your hair as to accentuate the beauty of lines as seen in the profile.

If you have a pretty chin don't smother it in furs but keep it pointing out just a little coquetishly.
